Spirit of the Southern Press

HOW THEY LOOK AT THE SITUATION IN THE SOUTH

From a large file of late Southern newspapers we make a few selections which give a correct idea of how the people of the South look at the present situation The Feliciana (La) Item says discussing the expediency of the adoption of the proposed Constitutional amendment says

The very reason they give us for ratifying the amendments is in our opinion the strongest reason why we should not adopt them As they imply a degradation of the people of the South, we hope the people of the South will have nothing to do with them but await the action of the Northern States and if the amendments should be forced upon them to make the best of an inevitable necessity

As the prospect of the adoption of these amendments appears, we regret to observe a spirit among certain of the Southern people to discountenance the opinion that they are not so bad after all A careful reading of these amendments will satisfy any reasonable man that they were proposed for the oppression and degradation of the South and that the Southern people cannot honorably accept them As regards the new basis of representation which was intended as a bid to the South to barter away its honor, integrity and independence for the material advantage of a larger representation in Congress—a bid the refusal of which is calculating Yankee could never understand—we do not consider it, by any means, the worst feature of this new Constitutional handiwork We have no fears that the people of the South could be bribed into the adoption of negro suffrage at any price, certainly not for the poor privilege of an increased share in the engineering of the machinery of the "best Government in the world"

The South cares very little for representation, great or small, in Congress when such a representation pushed even to its most extended limits, would be powerless for good in the face of the immense Northern numerical majority The great Yankee bugbear of Southern supremacy in national legislation is now the veriest of chimeras, as indeed it was when there was some plausibility for the charge

* * * It must be obvious to every one that the leading idea among the Radical leaders at the North is the ultimate saddling of the South with negro suffrage To that end all their efforts have been directed They first hold an inducement to the South to voluntarily adopt, but our refusal to do so will by no means end the matter If the Radicals succeed in the approaching elections as we have little doubt they will, the next session of Congress will take some steps to secure their much cherished object Already their tools in each of the States are moving to bring an outside pressure to bear upon them for that purpose The Governor of this State has written a letter, and had it published, looking to the passage of an enabling act by Congress, to bring in Louisiana by means of a Convention elected by voters whose qualifications are to be prescribed by Congress itself If Congress should decide that none but "loyalists" or the loyal black man, should vote for delegates it will be seen how easy a matter it is to get negro suffrage adopted in the State of Louisiana It is even threatened that the State governments are to be overthrown altogether, and the States reduced to territorial governments With a Radical majority in Congress there is no saying what is to become of the people of the Southern States

Since, therefore we have no assurance that our adoption of the Constitutional Amendment will secure us against Radical oppression, we repeat that it is the best for the Southern States to have nothing to do with it That it is to be a part of the Constitution is already beyond a possible doubt.

The Griffin (Ga.) Herald, on the same point thus chivalrously asserts its contumaciousness

The Radicals say that even if the Southern States do vote for the Constitutional Amendment, still that shall not entitle them to seats in the National Congress. We are glad they talk so We go so far as to say that if we do not adopt the amendment, we ought to be kept out, and the last one of us be made "a hewer of wood and a drawer of water" trusting however that our children have inherited no such cowardice from us, and that they will reassert our forfeited manhood and honor

The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle circulates the following

Dr L F Andrews, senior editor of the Macon Georgia Citizen now on a visit to the North, writes the following among other things of date October 25th to his paper The Doctor is no sensationalist, and what, therefore to sober minded a man as he may say, should challenge the most serious consideration. Right here, observes the Griffin Herald, let us say, for fear of being misunderstood, that we hope the South, guarantees or no guarantees, never will pass the "Constitutional Amendment. even if the act keeps her out of the Union for the next five hundred years But to the extract

"With reference to the action of the South on the Constitutional Amendment to be submitted to their consideration I have this to say, as my opinion—not my wish—that we will have to swallow the bitter draft to the dregs, or content ourselves with taxation without representation for perhaps years to come With this view of the subject—without intending to advocate the adoption of the amendment—it were perhaps best to let things take their course Could the South have any guarantee that no more would be required of her than now presented, it would perhaps be best to yield to the imperative circumstances of the condition, as has been done before and submit with the best grace we can to the exactions and humiliations imposed on a down trodden people"

The Atlanta (Ga.) Intelligencer thus condenses the report of the Joint Committee of the Georgia Legislature on the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment

The report establishes conclusively the following positions

1st That the States of the United States are alone authorized to consider the Constitutional Amendments

2d That such Amendments must be proposed by two thirds of the Congress or the Legislatures of two-thirds of the States

3d That Georgia was one of the original thirteen States by which the Government was created and must always have continued to bear that relation to the Government unless she reserved to herself the right to secede or delegated to some department of the General Government the right to eject her

The report proves by the legislation of Congress—by the Proclamation of the President and the issue made and maintained by the General Government during the war, that a State could not secede, that her practical relations to the General Government were interrupted by the rebellion and with its suppression the States were restored to their practical relations, and the Constitution which had never been overthrown became the supreme law of the States recently in rebellion and that this Constitution can only be changed in the manner prescribed by the States themselves

The Intelligencer then comments upon the action of the Legislature as follows:

We are gratified beyond measure at the reception which the above infamous measure met at the hands of our General Assembly In the Senate the vote stood 38 for rejection, and 6 for adoption In the manly decision the House concurred with but two dissenting voices. These dissenting votes were cast by Messrs Ellington of Colmer and Humphrey of Lumpkin We give their names that the people of Georgia may know them

Thus has the question been settled so far as Georgia is concerned and we are confident that the action of our representatives will meet the hearty approval of all true Georgians A keener sense of self respect demand that the insult should be hurled back in the faces of those who seek to heap it upon us We congratulate the people of Georgia upon the fact that their legislators have been true to the trust reposed in them

The Hawkinsville (Ga.) Dispatch, commenting upon the message of the Governor of Georgia gives Jenkins the following Junkinsy notice

His opposition to the proposed Constitutional Amendment is such as might have been expected from the head and heart of Charles J Jenkins His lucid analysis of this amendment divests it of all resemblance of republican government and perspicuously shows to what degradation and disgrace any Southern State will descend that shall adopt it among her legislative enactments

Governor Holden's paper the Raleigh Standard thus ventures to mildly put it

Dr Deems's paper the Watchman is inclined to urge the Southern people to accept the Howard Amendment We said in our last it seemed to be certain that in no event would this State accept the Amendment but it may be that the coming months hence Governor Worth the National and the great body of the leading men of this State will urge in the most earnest terms the adoption of this Amendment They may even go further and declare that the salvation of the South and the fate of the country depend on its adoption But we fear it will be too late

The Fayetteville (N C) News says

Holden, the notorious, is striving to induce North Carolina to accept the Constitutional Amendment. He writes to the Raleigh Standard thus We saw and heard enough at Washington to convince us that if the Howard Amendment should not be accepted by the Southern States reorganization would follow with negro suffrage confiscation of property, and many other evils We wish the South to take this Amendment to avoid further and greater evils

The Griffin (Ga.) Herald does not like the way in which some Southern men abase themselves by professing willingness to go to Congress Upon this point it says

We blame no one for getting any respectable position that pays in money, but we cannot begin to understand how any man of nice feelings as solicitous to go to that Yankee Congress, where a Southern white man is not respected, and never will be again What bona fide white man with one grain of sand in his gizzard can sit up there in Washington—say that he is ever admitted there and hear himself and his wife, and his neighbors and his ancestors dead or alive and his constituents and his State, and his section abused from week's end to week's end, and he like a grinning fool, or a re constructed cur, compelled to take it all?

The Lancaster (S C) Ledger commenting on the November elections, assumes the air of injured innocence thus

The fate of the South so far as speedy representation is concerned has been decided by the result of the late elections The fickle shallow and unthinking people who accumulated a debt of three thousand millions of dollars and sacrificed half a million of lives to restore the Union are now it seems, overwhelmingly in favor of continuing indefinitely the very state of things to prevent which they fought for four years

Congress being omnipotent, our condition is that of prisoners of war upon parole The doctrine that our rights have been forfeited meets the approval of the North, and the triumph of the Radicals stamps the Northern people as the least magnanimous and most unforgiving people of modern times They are still at war with a disarmed people, who are honestly striving to obey laws in the making of which they have no voice.

Without representation in Congress to defend our interests and another resort to arms being out of the question, we have nothing left but to endure the malignity insults and outrages of a gigantic and merciless despotism with dignity and manliness We have now little left besides the memory and traditions of our splendid courage and that honor which passed scathless through the furnace of civil strife By silent, dignified endurance of our wrongs we may relearn in the midst of our misfortunes the respect of mankind but by slavish, servile concessions we shall lose all which renders life endurable

The Ledger also bemoans the sluggishness of the majority of the Southern States in reference to secession and says, regretfully

Had every Southern State been a South Carolina a third of a

Rebels Furnishing Reasons for Their Own Disfranchisement

The leaders of the late rebellion, and all who speak on behalf of the Southern population, are a great pains to inform everybody that they are unconquered and unconquerable They are at liberty to entertain what opinions they please in regard to their personal prowess, they may boast of it if they choose, and swear that on the first opportunity they will renew the scheme in which they have lately been foiled, yet they should not complain if these declarations have the effect of keeping them under perpetual political disabilities, and of withholding from them the power which is necessary to enable them to carry out their designs These frequent assertions of what they intend to do, will be the means of depriving them of the ability of doing anything When they tell us that the conflict is merely adjourned, and that it will be renewed on the first favorable opportunity, they are furnishing us with the strongest possible motive for placing them under such restraints as will render it impossible for them to do further harm The high language which they hold is an argument for their disfranchisement for their exclusion from all places of trust and power The country is not willing to take the risk of having Jefferson Davis A H Stephens, Barnwell Rhett, J C Breckinridge and a multitude of other able traitors again placed in important positions It is clear that until these men are disabled from holding office, the South will elect no others On former occasions they disregarded the sanctity of oaths and took pride in committing perjury, and we have no assurance that they would hereafter be more faithful to this most sacred of obligations Every day they are showing additional reasons why they should be disfranchised If they complain of the humiliation, there are others who are of opinion that such complaints do not very well become men whose sense of moral responsibility is not shocked by the crimes of perjury and treason

The Lafayette Courier complains "that tompi(hic)erance organs usually ca(hic)pouse all the isms of the dec(hic)alogue, some of them even embrac(hic)ing Abolitionism" The Courier man is becoming a philosopher. "All the isms of the decalogue," is good. It is these "isms" which good Democrats like himself hold in utter abhorrence. Evidently he considers them enemies to his party. But can it be that there is another person in the world, drunk or sober, who can read the English language and yet who does not know the meaning of the word "decalogue?" As for the last charge which this enemy of the decalogue and of abolitionism prefers,—who ever heard of a temperance paper that was not "Abolition?" A Democratic temperance organ, indeed! Barnum would give a fortune for a copy of one

The "official organ" says

That our paper should have been indicated for the publication of official notices is not on account of any party claim we had to such consideration and was in consequence of no personal application on our behalf, but simply because it is the only daily paper in the State which is not devoted to the vilification and misrepresentation of the Government," as administered by Mr Johnson

No, sir, you were appointed solely because you did the work of Mr Nesmith While other Democratic organs were standing up for the champions of their party, you were "bending the pregnant hinges of the knee" before Mr, Nesmith, and while they are left without a crust or a crumb, you are realizing the thrift that follows fawning

The Oregon Statesman has terminated its existence. It was the oldest journal in Oregon with the exception of the OREGONIAN The material of the office has been purchased by the proprietors of the Unionist. The Statesman was once a power in Oregon, and absolutely controlled the politics of the State. Its final plunge into the depths of Johnson "conservatism" was too much for it Its subscribers will hereafter be furnished with a good Union paper, the American Unionist, in its stead

Late advices from New Orleans state Governor Wells is about to demand of the military authorities in Louisiana the arrest of the persons known so have committed murders in the New Orleans massacre, whom the civil courts have, with bold defiance of justice, refused to prosecute This action will test the worth of Gen Grant's Order No. 44, and, if it is nullified, will definitely hold the President responsible for the protection of the assassins.

A memorial has been introduced in the Idaho Legislature asking Congress to create a new Territory, to include all that portion of Idaho lying north of forty four degrees forty-five minutes, and all that part of Washington Territory lying east of the Cascade mountains. The name proposed for the new Territory is "Columbia"

The remains of Francis McCoy of Walla Walla, who was murdered by the Indians while on the road to Owyhee, have been recovered, brought back to Walla Walla and interred there

Pat. Malone is in San Francisco He finds a congenial companion and friend in Zach Montgomery of the Occidental and Vanguard, whose paper he is working upon.

Mr Noltner, proprietor of the late Democratic Review gives notice that he will resume the publication of that paper on the 12th of the present month.

STATE ITEMS

An old man named Jacob Jones, of Roseburg, Douglas county, while walking a log across a creek near that place last week, fell in and was drowned.

The following officers were elected by Albany Lodge No 4, I. O. O. F., at their regular meeting on last Wednesday D M Thompson N G J Fleschner V G, Thos. Monteith, Secretary, Dennis Beach, Treasurer

On the 20th of December Samuel Speer, Judge of Tillamook county was fatally injured by the falling of a large limb from a tree The limb struck him upon the head, knocking him down, but he recovered sufficiently to walk to his house, a short distance off Next morning he died of his injuries

The Unionist says Articles of incorporation have been filed, incorporating the "Butte Creek Coal Road Company" The road will be a wagon road or horse-railway running from Oregon City to the Pennsylvania Coal District The capital stock is $10 000 and Frank Charpy, O J Carr and G W Lauson are the incorporators

ANOTHER DISAPPOINTED DEMOCRAT —The Jacksonville Reporter renews its grumble about the pusillanimous course of the President Its editor is one of those fighting Democrats who were deluded into a belief that their "Moses" was going to lead them out of the wilderness, albeit he should lead them "through a sea of blood" The Reporter says

Last week we promised to say something about the Message after giving it a careful perusal We have read it, and have arrived at the conclusion that President Johnson says nothing in it to be admired that he has said before His reconstruction policy he has enlarged upon here before, and is good enough, but why does he not act it out? Instead of acting up to his professions he seems rather inclined to take water and his firm tone of a few months ago seems to be dwindling into something exceedingly milk and cider ish If he would do more towards reconstructing the national fabric and say less about it he would be much more warmly supported by the union loving people of the country, and hosts would rally to his standard that now see no grounds for faith in professions His talk about our foreign relations is ambiguous and windy, and we know no more of our status with foreign powers than we did before we read the document Taking the message as a whole, we think it incomparably inferior both in a statesmanlike tone and ability, to that of last year Again we say, if Johnson wants to gain the confidence of his friends and the good will of the people, he had better do something

A Democratic Legislature

They have a thoroughly Democratic Legislature in Idaho Territory Democracy exists there in its genuine character, uncorrupted by any of the influences which in some other places somewhat modify it, and compel it to assume virtues it does not naturally possess The true character of Idaho Democracy was lately manifested in a most conspicuous manner in a scene which occurred in the Territorial Council Gov Ballard had sent a message to the Legislative Assembly recommending such legislation as might seem calculated to reduce the public expenditures in the Territory It appears that an act was passed sometime ago allowing larger compensation to the Governor and members of the Legislature than that paid out of the Treasury of the United States,—the additional sum to be paid out of Treasury of the Territory Among other measures of retrenchment, the Governor recommended the repeal of this law The following is a part of the debate which was had in the Council in regard to the matter

Mr Scanlker thought the gentleman from Nez Perces like the man who traveled to Europe to see the crater of Vesuvius, and arriving there walked all around it and looked down into its yawning chasms, and after all said he could see nothing in it. The gentleman could see nothing in the message He (Mr S) could see condemnation and damnation in it, and everything else that you can think of that is execrable They were free American citizens and it was an insult to that honorable House for him to come there with that message and tell them what they shall do, and what salaries they should have It was an outrage and an insult in every sense of the word, and he resented it as such It so struck him the moment he heard it. Tell them that they should do thus and so, and that he proposes thus and so! He comes here with a par excellence recommendation Does he suppose we shall consent to it? By the Eternal God he would never would submit to it, and he did not believe the House would submit to it for the Governor to say they shall act thus and so When they wanted any recommendations of that sort from him they would let him know They didn't appoint him Governor. They didn't elect him Governor He is no part or parcel with us—

Mr Stevenson—Imported?

Mr Scanlker—Yes, imported from Oregon.

Mr Stevenson—From Yamhill

Mr Scanlker—Yes, from Yamhill God damn Yamhill This is an insult to the people of the Territory and to every member on this floor, and as such I shall regard it.

Mr. Stevenson—I move to lay the communication of his par Excellency the Governor on the table

Mr Amsbe said the only time when a measure can come to the notice of the Governor, in his official capacity, was when it had been passed by both Houses and was sent to him for his approval, and at no other time Now, when he volunteers to dictate to this assembly what course it shall pursue, he has superseded his authority. His proposing an amendment to a law before it was communicated to him, and before he had received any official communication from either House, was unprecedented and unallowable, and ought to be resented He did not care if it came from Governor Jesus Christ himself, he would resent it He supposed that the message meant that if they put off his salary and did not cut off the extra compensation of the members of the Legislature Assembly, he would veto the bill Now, sir, let him veto, and be damned I say, sir, let him veto it. I don't believe there is a Democratic member but will vote to pass it over his head. I propose, Mr Spencer, to pass it over the head of this Governor David W Ballard, of Yamhill county, Oregon

Mr Fenn proceeded to say that Governor Ballard stood in a different relation to the people of this Territory from what the members of the Legislature did They were the elected, representatives of the people He was a pensioner upon the Government

Mr Amsbe—Go in, Fenn

Mr Stevenson—Bully for Fenn!

Mr Scanlker said he had read English history carefully, and as a lawyer, but he had never read of such a message as this He could see that the Governor intended to dictate to them, No Governor before ever did it; no President of the United States ever did it no sovereign of Europe ever did it, or dare do it It was unprecedented and unparliamentary for the Executive to advise either House upon financial matters at all, and particularly when a measure was pending As to the matter of their extra compensation, they would do as they please He had never felt his indignation come up as he had felt it come up on hearing this message read, and he hoped it would be voted down with the indignation it deserved.

Mr Ainslie then offered the following

Resolved, That the message or recommendation received from Governor Ballard of this date relating to Council Bill No 2 be received with that contempt which it merits, and that any communication of a similar nature in the future be sent back to the said Ballard with a communication from the Council that when his advice is required it will be called for, and an additional reminder that such officious intermeddling by the Executive with matters pending in this House will not be endured

Mr Scanlker seconded the resolution and it was carried

We publish the above merely to show a phase of the Democratic character. Scanlker and Ainslie, the individuals who bore so prominent a part in this debate, are understood to be interesting with the President for the removal of Judges McBride and Cummines, and the appointment of Ainslie and Scanlker, good Democrats, to the positions they hold. Such men should not be suffered, even for a day, to go unrewarded.

FROM IDAHO

The following items are from the Owyhee Avalanche of the 22d ult

WOODSTOCK

The owners of this ledge are still at work with the most gratifying prospects Two lots of the ore have been separately crushed in the Webfoot mill, and each time gave small dividends above expenses Work has thus far been prosecuted at a great disadvantage, as the ledge was found near the winter season and away from any traveled road New roads have been built and the ledge so far opened as to enable the owners as to take out a ton of ore per day We were shown several pounds of it on Wednesday, and it all shows rich in sulphurets of silver and much free gold The lowest depth is twenty seven feet A tunnel has been started and ore will be taken out all winter The vein has every appearance of a large one, and is now two and one half feet thick. There are three varieties of quartz and each differ from that of any other ledge in camp

COAL

The Reynolds' Creek Coal Company is sanguine of finding coal in paying quantities Mr. Babington says if the numerous strata already found were united they would form quite a large body—say two and one half feet The tunnel now reaches into the hill over two hundred feet, and is being pushed forward Timbers are provided for a full winter's work and the company is determined to find coal in a large body or spend much money and labor trying The owners deserve success and the interests of the public will be benefited if they are successful.

INDIAN FIGHT

A letter from Ruby Ranch, Cow Creek, to the Avalanche, dated December 16th, gives the following

The Indians attacked us this morning at three A M They had full possession of the stable before we were aware of their presence, for our dogs were off hunting the evening before and had not come home At the first noise I went to the door and received a volley from them immediately, but did not get hurt. I found they had the house completely under fire on each side of us The Indians got on the back part of the corral and opened a small gap and took all the stock out of the stable We gave them the best we had We killed one and wounded others At daylight we followed them and recaptured the cattle I forgot to say that before they left they set fire to the stable, which we put out The house is completely riddled with bullets and quite a quiver of arrows I find that my treaty with Winnemucca is not at all respected None of us hurt They used Sharp's bullets and others One of them spoke English well The boys say he was a Frenchman I think there were about twenty Diggers

WHEREAS, It having pleased the Almighty dispenser of human events to remove from our midst by a sudden but peaceful death our esteemed fellow-citizen, Hon R L. Stratton, Judge of this Judicial District Therefore be it

Resolved That, by this afflictive dispensation of Providence, the community has lost one of its most prominent and useful citizens, society one of its brightest ornaments the family and wide circle of relatives a most affectionate friend—and especially do we feel that an office of great public trust and honor has become vacant, that was filled by our deceased friend with marked acceptance to the public, and with faithful attention to the duties of the office

2nd That Although startled by the suddenness of the shock, and overcome with grief at the magnitude of our loss both in the public and private relations which we all bore to the deceased, yet it is our plain duty to bow with submission to the inscrutable decree of Him who doeth all things well

3d That, Hon P P Prim be requested to present a copy of these resolutions at the next term of the Supreme Court, and the Secretary of the meeting forward the same to the several county Clerks of this Judicial District, and that the county Clerk of this county be requested to present the same at the next term of the Circuit Court of this county, with a request that they be spread upon the Journals of the Court, and also that the Secretary forward a copy of the same to the family of the deceased and the newspapers of the State

THE MASQUERADE.—The Masquerade Soiree at Turn Verein Hall Tuesday evening was one of the grandest successes of the kind ever achieved on the Coast. We should say, among all in all it was fully equaled in San Francisco, where so many more facilities exist for procuring complete fancy costumes. Indeed very many of the suits worn on this occasion were procured from professional costumers in that city at a cost of fifty dollars each. The entire absence of anything which could in any way offend the most fastidious taste or the nicest sense of propriety, reflected the highest credit upon the managing committee, and contributed to render the party one of the most agreeable entertainments that it has ever been our fortune to attend. The parties themselves were astonished when they got together to witness the variety of characters personated. We regret that we have not enough space to go into a full description of even the leading characters but we cannot omit to mention a few of them. One of the most noticeable was a school boy with his satchel of books marbles candy cakes, thread, buttons and such a medley as only a school boy knows how to collect. The character was carried to perfection and the whines, pertness, greenness and contradiction of a true school boy, whose upper lip is just sprouting a fuzzy down, served to create an immense amount of merriment. When the masks were taken off the accomplished actor was revealed in the person of Mr L May. Mr H Seller represented Faust in a splendid costume which is said to have been valued at several hundred dollars. Another gentleman whose name we did not learn, was dressed in the character of Satan. Had these gentlemen rehearsed a little in the play of Faust, they could easily have treated the audience to by plays between Faust and the Devil which would have been rather startling in effect. Of negro minstrels, sailors, Chinamen etc there were quite a number, among whom Messrs Waller Keenan, Rosenfeld Goldsmith and others, were conspicuous and acted the characters with great success. A Turk as a female slave, by a lady whose name we did not learn was a very good character. Mrs Lewis was dressed like a court lady of the time of Louis XIV, and attracted a good deal of attention. Mr Meyer Isaacs, as a Black Monk, was very successful. He had frequent occasion to resort to his beads to repel aggressive demonstrations on the part of Satan. The most gorgeous female costume was that of Cleopatra, by Miss J Meyer, who supported the character in fine style. Miss C Meyer was dressed in the character of Orsini, a page in an Italian tragedy. The costume was elegant, and Miss M was an pretty a page as one could wish to see. Mrs Barman represented the Morning Star, and Miss Davis the Evening Star, in very rich and elegant costumes. Mr Johns acted Pierrot, a pantomimist, with very fine effect. Mr Blum made a splendid Indian Chief. Mrs. Haas as La Fille de Regiment, achieved a very flattering success, as did Miss Whitehall as a Bonnie Highland Lassie. Before the supper the two dancers appeared together in a Spanish dance which earned great applause. Mr. Hillsburgh dressed and acted the Carnival Harlequin to perfection. Mrs Wall and Mrs Goldsmith were very pretty Bavarian flower girls. Mrs. Levi appeared in a dress made of newspapers, a very happy conceit, and well executed. She furnished the professional quill with a regular reporter's sang froid. Mr Hirshel wore the veritable suit of young Hamlet—a very rich and expensive costume. Mr Seaman black-wooded in burlesque was very good. Mr. Lewis as Sam Slick, and Mr Briggs as Brother Jonathan were peculiarly happy, and created as much fun as though they had been the genuine originals. Mr Goldsmith as a "solid man" was exceedingly good. Ackerman as a little old woman, quiet, demure, and imbued with an apparently unconscious desire to darn and mend things generally. Then there were pretty peasant and flower girls who danced with the monks, nuns who promenaded with the devil, John Chinaman with the court lady, the Turk again waltzed with the Morning Star, Red Riding Hood cheek-to-cheek with the Highland Lassie, the School-boy went everywhere, sucking his candy and inquiring anxiously if anybody had seen his sister, and altogether there was one number of the most ludicrous and laughprovoking mix matching of characters. Almost a endless number of amusing incidents marked the evening's entertainment. That nothing occurred to mar the perfect enjoyment of the party is due mostly to the committee —Messrs Freidenrich, Hildburg Lewis and Walter—who managed everything very happily. The hall was quite prettily decorated the music was excellent and, altogether, the first of masquerade in Portland was a complete success, and will never fail to be recalled among other memories of the past, by those who participated in its gaieties. We hope this party which was really so well conducted, will have its successor at no distant day.

A TESTIMONY CURIOUS.—We have been furnished with a letter received by a gentleman of this city, from a curiosity hunter at Copenhagen, Denmark. We transfer it to our columns, as a specimen of composition about as curiously odd as anything we have seen for a long time.

COPENHAGEN, DENMARK Nov. 1, 1866.

In the hope that you will not take it ill that I address this letter to you, dear sir, so I take the liberty to ask you if you most kindly will do me the service, wherefore I will be you very much obliged and thankful.

Perhaps you know it is here in Europe, perhaps also in your country, been a general pleasure to collect postage stamps (timbre-postes) for if possible to get a collection of all countries' afore and now circulating postage-stamps. It is here a great pleasure for old and young men to collect these stamps, and one find here in families the albums for postage-stamps, as well as the albums for photographs.

I am also one of these collectors of postage-stamps, and find great pleasure in this collection. I take therefore the liberty to ask you if you most kindly will do me the favor to procure me a number of such cancelled (obliterated) postage-stamps from your country.— It will certainly be not difficult for you, dear Sir, to find a great number of such stamps on letters or to get them of some of your friends, perhaps also you for your friends stay in connexion with other countries, I will so be very happy if you will send me a number of stamps from such countries, from which you or your friends have letters and postage-stamps. I omit not to say that you can rejoice me very much if you will take any of such stamps from the letters, then the stamps must not more are in use (I not are of course like most now, because they come not more out in the world on letters, and therefore are difficult to get. But I have besides use for all stamps, on which send more and such which now are in use in the different countries. I have for so large a number as you will kindly send me, also many duplicate kinds, as I have here many friends to whom I send some, if I get them other in exchange.

I hope you will not deny my desire to you in this letter, dear Sir! Believe you can not misfortune that I have put for this, but I can only say you, that it is here a great delight to get a such collection of all existed postage stamps. You will therefore do me and my friends a very great service if you will send us a good lot of such stamps for our albums.

But I beg you also very kindly to inform me, what you have interest for if you or your esteemed friends also collect postage-stamps, or photographs, curiosities or whichever other things, so I will send you such for your pleasure. I will be very glad if I can exhibit you my gratitude. I hope therefore you will not forget to let me how I can serve you again.

I hope then soon to receive a welcome letter from your dear country, and hope you very kindly to send by way of England and continental envelope. But I do not know if letters from your country and to Denmark can be sent with the post, which I hope you will kindly ask for in the Post-Office in your city. If letters can not be sent, I not hope only that you will most kindly pay your letter to me, and beg you then to say me which little moneys of paper from Europe are valid in your city, so I will send you such for that you have been of the kindness to pay your letter to me. I beg you, then, if you can to pay your dear letter in the Post-Office, not gladly with postage-stamps, as I have learnt that such be removed on the way, and the letters go so often in pieces. — If letters, meantime can be sent unpaid with the post, so I beg you very kindly only to send your dear letter unpaid; and beg you also to take notice off that your dear letter is of great weight, and it comely contain many stamps, I pay with pleasure the postage here.

If it now, against my wish, should be the accident that your lieb or other grounds give you no leave to do me the service, so I have only that hope that you will most kindly give this letter to one of your friends, who you think can and will do me this service. — I hope meantime that you can; you will safely do me a greater service than you suppose and I will be you very much obliged for this service, and pray only that I can reciprocate you this your kindness. I will serve you in whatever, and have the hope that I can serve you to your satisfaction.

I hope now you will not forget what I have written to you that I namely have no fix ill and many stamps, but especially the old or obsolete stamps.

I have a friend, who is a book printer, he has printed this letter for pleasure but as I am by no means master of English so I hope you will most kindly excuse the errors in the same. My next letter I will write to you.

Living in the hope soon to receive your dear letter, for which I am very longing.

I am meantime, Sir,

Yours most respectfully and thankfully,

V C WIUM'

Copenhagen, Denmark, Europe

DROWNED.—On Monday afternoon, two men were drowned just below the falls at Oregon City. The ferryman whose name was James Laughlin, and another named Tierney, took a skiff and ran up the eddy to a point above the old island to see to some fishing nets which they had previously set. For some reason totally unknown to those on shore they ran from the eddy out into the swift current which they had scarcely struck, when the skiff was caught by one of the whirls that are always surging there at high water, and instantly capsized. The men and the boat disappeared for a moment but soon came up a few rods down stream and the men swam for some time. One of them kept on the surface so verably well that the spectators thought for a time he could hold out till succor could reach him, but he finally, when nearly opposite the warehouse, sank and was seen no more. The Senator was just arriving when the accident occurred and Capt Kellogg ran her up into the still water and had the yawl manned by wiffs pike poles to rescue the unfortunate men but they until before the steamer reached them.

RABBIT CREEK QUARTZ.—Mr C H Seeley Superintendent of the La Grande Co.'s works in the Gem and Buckeye, showed us yesterday some specimens of quartz from each of those mines. That from the Gem was taken from the shaft at the depth of 90 feet is a beaut ful piece of rose quartz, in which gold is plainly seen with the naked eye, and is said to prospect over $1,000 to the ton. The specimens from the Buck, taken from a depth of 60 feet, is similar in quality of rock, perhaps a little finer and harder, but shows no gold. It however, prospects about $60 per ton at any part of the shaft. The company has about 70 tons of rock out, from the Gem, and over 120 tons from the Buck. The mill—five stamps—is not running this winter, the water having frozen up. Work with the mill will probably be resumed in March. The company is now negotiating with the Iron Works in this city for five more stamps.

A FIERCE FIGHTING COCK.—The Willamette Fire Company has in its possession the stuffed skin of a fighting cock which has a history among the firemen of California. It formerly, a good many years ago, belonged to a member of Providence Engine Co No 1, of Sacramento, to which then belonged the carriage recently purchased by the Willamettes. When the carriage was sold to Rincon Co No. 6, San Francisco, chanticleer went with it and now that the Willamettes have the carriage, they have the bird, as an appurtenance. During his life he fought 120 battles, in every one of which he was victorious, but in the 121th he was killed.

RECORDER'S COURT—HOFFMAN, JUDGE.—The cases before the Recorder yesterday morning were as follows:

Richard Smith, a colored boy, for stealing a watch worth $75 and $24 in money from Mary Ann Stratat on Second street. He was arrested on Monday. He had traded off the watch for a few marbles and secreted the money. The watch and $18 75 of the money were recovered. The court held him to answer in the circuit court to the charge of grand larceny and fixed bail at $500.

Wm Allman—charged with being drunk and lying on the side walk—discharged.

J C Chase—drunk and disorderly on Second street—discharged.

Jas McMurphy fined $5, was fined $10 in default of which he was committed to jail for five days.

SHERMAN'S MEXICAN MISSION.—Mr W L Hill of this city has received a letter from a gentleman in San Francisco—a former Oregonian—who says that he has had a recent conversation with Gen Halleck on the subject of Mexican affairs. Gen Halleck assured him that one of the objects of Gen Sherman's mission was to arrive at an understanding with the Mexican Government, by which the United States forces will have the right to pursue bodies of Indians into Mexican territory whenever they shall retreat across the line for refuge.

THE RECEPTION AT NO 1 HOUSE.—In accordance with previous notice, Willamette Engine House was kept open on New Year's day for the reception of visitors, curious to see the new Hose Carriage. Large numbers called during the day and were politely shown everything to be seen. The carriage, though second hand, is a very handsome one in good state of preservation and apparently capable of doing many years hard service yet.

WILLAMETTE FREIGHTS.—Per Alert, January 2d 311 boxes apples, 104 sacks bats, 101 quarter sacks flour, 2 bales woolen goods, 3 packages plunder, 1 bale bedding, 1 demijohn, 85 sacks wheat 435 sacks feed 2 half bbls butter 2 boxes, 83 sacks potatoes.

Per Senator same day 154 boxes apples 606 sacks oats 3 half bbls, 5 cases mdse, 560 sacks flour, 2 boxes.

"Man wants but little here below
Nor wants that little long"

But what he does want he should get of the best quality and for the least money possible, whether it be a meerschaum pipe, cigars, chewing or smoking tobacco, fancy goods or Yankee notions, and we advise them to buy of Stone & Norman, on the N. E. corner of First and Washington streets.

A child can operate a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine. It sews from two common spools, makes a stitch stronger than that made by hand, and its simplicity is marvelous in comparison to its capacity. The elegant embroidery which is now so popular is all executed by this celebrated sewing machine. WM. CRAMER & CO., agents, 163 Front street, Portland.

IMPORTANCE OF HAVING DAVIS' PAIN KILLER ALWAYS ON HAND.

Wonderful Cure of the Rev D L. Drayton, Missionary in India who was stung by a Scorpion.

Extract from his letter, published in the Baptist Missionary Magazine:

"For the first time since I have been in India, I have been stung by a scorpion. I went out this morning to my exercises, as usual, at early dawn, and having occasion to use an old box, on taking off the cover I put my hand on a scorpion, which immediately resented the insult by thrusting its sting into the palm of my hand. The instantaneous and severe pain which darted through the system is quite incredible, what an awful virulent pain their sting must contain! I FLEW TO MY BOTTLE OF DAVIS' PAIN KILLER, and found it to be true to its name, after a few moments' relief, I saturated a small piece of sponge, bound it on my hand, and went about by exercises, feeling no more particular inconvenience."

Mustang Liniment.

OVER A MILLION DOLLARS SAVED!

Gentlemen:—"I had a negro man worth $1,200 who took cold from a bad hurt in the leg, and was useless for over a year. I had used everything I could hear of without benefit, until I tried the Mexican Mustang Liniment. It soon affected a permanent cure."

J. L. DOWNING.

Montgomery, Ala., June 17, 1859.

"I take pleasure in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment as a valuable and indispensable article for Sprains, Sores, Scratches or Galls on Horses. Our man have used it for Burns, Bruises, Sores, Rheumatism, &c., and all say it acts like magic. J W HEWITT,

"The sprain of my daughter's ankle, occasioned while skating last winter, was entirely cured in one week, after she commenced using your celebrated Mustang Liniment.
Gloucester, Mass., Aug 1, 1865. ED SEELY."

It is an admitted fact that the Mexican Mustang Liniment performs more cures in shorter time, on man and beast than any article ever discovered. Families, livery men and planters should always have it on hand. Quick and sure it certainly is. All genuine is wrapped in steel plate engravings, bearing U S Stamp of DEMAS BARNES & Co over the top.

An effort has been made to counterfeit it with a cheap stone-plate label. Look closely!

This is just what Lyon's Katharion will do. It is pretty—it is cheap—durable. It is literally sold by the car load and yet its almost incredible demand is daily increasing, until there is hardly a country store that does not keep it or a family that does not use it.

ESSENTIAL OILS, HER

After the Ball

BY "NORA PERRY"

They sat and talked in the soft mutual hush
Their hands met, their eyes met, only so
As they might be can talked to the remember there
After the revel was done

Idly they talked of waltz and polka drills
Idly they laughed like the careless girls,
While over their shoulders the soft gray dusk
Combat their braids and curls

Robes of satin and lace, pearls and flowers
Knots of flowers and the same, too
Scatter'd about in every place
For the revel is done

Slippers and gloves and fan, left here and there
Those wonderful waves of the ostrich feather
Tell the frolic and glee that were
All the little late fast are cold

Then out of the gathering winter chill
All out of the cold and dark and dreary
While the fire burns low and the lamp smokes still
Maud and Madge together—

Maud and Madge in robes of white
They left last night gown under the sun,
Curtain drawn from the cold this night
After the revel is done

Float along in a spiritual dream
To the distant music trembling true
While thousand lustres shimmering stream
In a palace grand saloon

Flashing of jewels and flutter of laces
Tropical odors sweeter than musk
Men and women with heart of faces
And eyes of tropical dusk

And one face shining out like a star
One face haunting the dreams of each,
And one voice sweeter than others are
Breaking in silvery speech

Telling through lips of bearded bloom
An old old story over again
As do on the royal bannered room,
To the golden gittern's strain

Two and two they dreamily walk
While an unseen spirit walks beside
And all unheard in the lover's talk,
He claimeth one for his bride.

O, Maud and Madge, dream on together,
With never a pang of jealous fear
For ere the bitter St. Agnes weather
Shall whiten another year,

Robed for the bridal and robed for the tomb
Braided brown hair and golden tress,
Of the bearded lips to press

Only one for the bridal pearls
The robe of satin and pearls lace—
Only one to blush through her curls
At the sight of a lover's face

O, beautiful Madge in your bridal white!
For you the revel has just begun
But for her who sleeps in your arms to-night,
The revel of Life is done!

But robed and crowned with your saintly bliss,
Queen of heaven and bride of the sun,
O beautiful Maud you'll never miss
The kisses another hath won!

The heads of Departments at Washington have untimely announced that no more removals will be made on political grounds The Washington correspondent of the N Y Times says

George W. Morgan and Judge Van Trump are the representatives-elect from the Thirteenth (Delano's) and Twelfth (Finck's) Districts of Ohio They are of the pure Copperhead species, Morgan having become disgusted with fighting in the war, resigning his commission to stump the State in behalf of Vallandigham Vallandigham was buried by 100,000 majority, and Morgan himself became the Copperhead candidate for Governor two years later, but was beaten by Gen Cox by 30,000 Thus year he has squeezed into Congress by a few votes over Columbus Delano, and the question of his seat will come before the House as Mr Delano contests Van Trump is a politician of the same stripe, and has done equally as much for his country They came to Washington, with others and yesterday called upon Secretary McCulloch to request the removal of certain revenue officers They were informed that the thing could not be done. They called upon the president to ask the removal of the Postmaster at Cleveland, Mr Benedict, editor of the Herald, and the appointment of Mr Armstrong, editor of the Plaindealer They got no encouragement there. They then called on the Postmaster-General and plead their case That officer declined likewise, and the reason was demanded Mr. Randall said that the gentleman who is urged did not vote for the President in 1864, and opposed the war "But he supports the President now, and belongs to the Democratic party, and the Democratic party supports the President," said Morgan. "The Democratic party's support of the President has been a curse to him," said the Postmaster General Morgan grew angry at this home thrust, and began to reply, when he was informed that the "conversation was ended" This is the substance of the interview, as related to me on excellent authority, and it is to-day the talk of the street. These conferences are defeated thus far in what they supposed to be their own camp, and the fact, if not suggestive of a change of policy at least indicates that the Administration is at last estimating at its true worth the support of the Copperhead leaders The barren roll of promised victories is the most effectual offset to the claims of the Democracy for pay for services performed.

JOHN BROWN AND STONEWALL JACKSON COMPARED —A rebel poetaster in Colusa county, California, has been grinding out some verses in honor of Stonewall Jackson The San Francisco Dramatic Chronicle noticing the same and comes to the following noteworthy conclusions:

So it seems that Stonewall's soul, like John Brown's, is destined to "march on" Judging from present appearances, the latter is marching a good deal the fastest Stonewall's ideas are fading, John Brown's are triumphing Stonewall died for slavery—and slavery is dead beyond resurrection. The old Abolition fanatic died for the freedom of the negro, and the negro is free Brown was ahead of his time and could not wait the march of events He wanted to hurry the world along faster than circumstances admitted Jackson was behind the time, and wanted to hold the world back when circumstances were propitious to progress Both were thoroughly sincere, utterly fearless and devoted They were equally pious and equally fanatical So far as honesty of purpose and purity of personal character is concerned, one was just as good as the other, so far as largeness of soul, sympathy with freedom and progress, is concerned, old John Brown was the greater Both fell into the errors and excesses common to fanatics, Each freely and unhesitatingly sacrificed his life for the cause he deemed sacred Brown's death was positively sublime. If there is a life beyond the grave, and the spirits of the two men have met before the throne of their Maker where the scales fall from all eyes, it is not, we suspect, the old Abolition fanatic who will have the longer and more momentous catalogue of errors to confess

BIG BEND —The Walla Walla Statesman of the 28th ult has the following in regard to the Big Bend mines

Our townsman, Dr E Shiel, has returned home, after the absence of several months in the Big Bend country, where he was largely engaged in mining operations He reports that notwithstanding the mines have generally been regarded as a failure, a large amount of gold was taken out during the last season and that the prospect is good for a still larger yield with the coming year About seventy five persons will winter in the mines, and these are satisfied that they have an excellent prospect The drawback has been that the mines are "spotted," and that while a few have made money, the great mass have run behind The explanation of this is that the main lead has never been struck This lead they are now prospecting for, and when found they expect great results. The Dr says that towards the close of the season there was a growing confidence that the mines would ultimately prove rich and with this conviction operations will be resumed with renewed energy the coming spring Thus far mining has been confined to French Creek, and but two or three claims can fairly be said to have paid What another season will bring forth can only be conjectured but this at least is certain, that old and experienced miners feel certain as to the result.

COMPLIMENTARY NOTICE —The Walla Walla Statesman gives a brother "conservatur" the following flattering notice

Advices from Olympia state that neither the democrats or radicals have any confidence in the conversion of Hon Phillip D Moore, Collector of Internal Revenue for Washington Territory A few months since Mr Moore returned from Washington City where he had been to settle up his accounts, and he then proclaimed himself a flaming radical President Johnson was characterized by the Collector as a "bull in a China shop," and the radical Congress represented the sum of human wisdom Thus things remained down to comparatively a recent date when the Collector experienced a change of heart even more sudden than Paul's miraculous conversion The suddenness of the change and the fact that Moore has all his life been a radical abolitionist even going so far as to advocate and practice negro equality, leads very many persons to doubt the sincerity of his conversion and hint that he is a trader by a desire to retain office The man who would thus wheel about and turn about for the purpose of eating the President's bread and butter scarcely deserves a place at the public crib

ADVICE TO THE PRESIDENT —The New York Times always a Conservative organ, advises the President to lead in the negro suffrage movement Following is a portion of one of its articles

The situation of the President may be likened to that of a sailor who has been washed overboard in a storm He and his policy have been swept overboard by the waves of public opinion He relied on his policy to buoy him up and save him when the political storm had gathered around but the policy went down like a plummet and there is great likelihood that the President will follow it Dark as the prospect is, however he might yet save himself There is a plank floating near him—the plank of equal rights—upon which he might scramble and save himself from the fate which otherwise can be only a question of time Not only might he avoid being engulfed but he might also secure a safe landing in the harbor of popular favor, and achieve a complete triumph over the party who are now rejoicing at his danger

* * * * *

If the President would now save himself, he must cut loose from the past and come up to the standard of the present The people have told him plainly enough that they will not go back to him and therefore he must come forward to them or take the consequences He must give up his notion about extreme State rights, he must realize the fact that the safety of the Union is the thing of paramount importance in our national politics, he must appreciate the popular disapproval of his policy for the reinstatement of prominent rebels in the high places of the Government, and he must recognize the necessity of placing the Southern freedmen in a position whereby they may have equal protection of the laws and equal privileges under the laws These points comprise the ultimatum of the people, and it rests with the President to accept or reject them If he shall fail to avail himself of the opportunity now offered to him, he must inevitably sink so low politically that no line of policy can ever draw him up, but if he shall be governed by prudence judgment and common sense, he will accept the ultimatum of the people, reinstate himself in their favor and pave the way for an early and complete rout of the whole Radical party

GREELY'S TRIUMPH —For the first time in his life Horace Greely is a complete master of the political situation in this State He is now the champion—the head and front—of the Radical party of New York, and there is no one to control his leadership But his path to the position has been a rugged one For many years he led only a corporal's guard of the anti Democratic party in New York, and although he fought his opponents with great earnestness and persistency, he made but little headway Thurlow Weed, the most skillful political leader whom this State has ever produced, held the control of the party In the State conventions, and in general management of the party, he was able to defeat and foil his zealous opponent at every turn But the change in the current of political events at last did for Mr Greely what years of patient and untiring labor failed to gain for him and also took from Mr Weed the mastery in spite of his superior shrewdness, sagacity and foresight. It is the progress of Radical ideas to which Mr Greely solely owes the position which he now occupies as the leader of his party in this State Mr Weed was identified with the Conservative interest, and when that interest was submerged by Radicalism, he went under with it, and Mr Greely came in upon the Radical tide, and his triumph became complete How long he will retain his present place remains to be seen He is not a sagacious Radical leader, but he is an earnest and zealous worker in the cause of his party, and will not be deposed without a hard struggle It is by no means likely that he will retain the ascendancy as long as Mr Weed did, but at present he has everything in his own hands and has reason to congratulate himself that the tide in the affairs of his party has led him to political fortune —N Y Sun

THE PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS —A special to the New York Tribune, dated Washington, Nov 10th, says

The Democrats who come here now to tender advice to, or ask favors of the Administration, are not received with that cordiality formerly experienced Their weakness in their own States, developed in the recent elections, has materially diminished the estimation in which they have been held, and the coldness with which they are received at the White House and in the Departments, and their maledictions upon the Administration favor the idea that the President is not adverse to some understanding with the majority of Congress which shall relieve his Administration from its present position of open antagonism. On the other hand, some of those who call themselves especial friends of Mr Johnson say that he is determined to maintain his position, and while he does not propose to keep up active opposition to Congress, he will quietly but firmly adhere to the policy already developed The real friends of the President and his Administration, however, are not without hopes that he may be influenced by the efforts and arguments which are brought to bear upon him to pursue a conciliatory course, and endeavor to bring his Administration into more amicable relations with Congress and the loyal people It is understood that Gen Sickles, in his interviews with the President, strongly expressed his dissent from his policy, his observations and experience in the South having satisfied him that it is not for the interests of the country that the Southern States should be restored in that manner, and urged upon the President that he should use his influence either to secure the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment, or, if that were impracticable, the granting of impartial suffrage

POPULATION OF ILLINOIS —The returns of the late census of Illinois shows that the population of that thriving commonwealth is 2,141,610 White males, 1,093,111, white females, 1,031,059 Total white population, 2,024,170 Colored males 9,112, colored females, 8 228 Total colored population, 17,340 According to the National census taken in 1860, the population of the Illinois at that time was 1,711,753 Increase in five years, 429,937

At the Fort Pitt Works, in November last, there was cast another monster naval gun The gun was the third of the description and calibre ever cast It is 20 inch bore, and is designed for the naval service on our iron clad fleet In the three furnaces used there were 140,000 pounds of the best Bloomfield, or Juniata, pig iron
